Overview

- defined set of functions or protocols for communication between systems
- interface independent of concrete implementation
 - decoupling applications
 - focus on what to do instead of how it is done
- examples
 - Linux: kernel-user space API → system calls, POSIX (Portable Operating System Interface)
 - Cloud Services: often dedicated REST (Representational State Transfer) APIs
 - DB Access: ODBC/JDBC and ORM frameworks